In addition, the Client acknowledges and agrees that all powers, authorities, rights, acts and/or discretions of the Branded Platform Provider under the abovementioned agreements shall apply mutatis mutandis between the Broker and the Client as if those were the Broker's powers, authorities, rights, acts and/or discretions.

- (vii) the Broker shall not be liable for any Loss suffered by the Client

General Terms

- 3.1. All transaction and Offshore Contracts will be entered into on an execution-only basis and the Broker shall not be deemed to have (i) made any recommendation to the Client; (ii) advised the Client on the merits of any Offshore Contract; or (iii) assessed the suitability of any Offshore Contract for the Client; and the Broker will not assume any liability in this respect. - 3.2. If the Client is acting as an agent for a Principal, the Client shall be liable before the Broker in respect of all transactions the Broker enters into with or for the Client. The Client acknowledges that it is responsible for the information it provides in the KYC form and the Client declares that it has a valid authorization from the Principal to open the account and act on the Principal's behalf. The Client undertakes, upon the Broker's request, to provide the Broker with all documents, which prove, to the Broker's satisfaction, such valid authorization and proxy from the Principal to the Client to enter into this Agreement and to give Instructions on its behalf for trades on the Branded Trading Platform and Exchange. The Client also declares that it will notify the Broker of any changes in the Client's details previously submitted. The Broker will continue to treat the Client as the client of the Broker, even where the Client has disclosed the identity of the Principal.

Best Execution:

- 3.3. When executing transactions according to this Agreement, the Broker shall abide by the Branded Trading Platform Provider's Best Execution Policy. The Broker will not use its best execution policy due to the agency nature of this Agreement and the Services provided to the Client
- 3.4. The Client acknowledges, recognizes and understands the following:
- (i) the Broker will not provide the Client with Branded Trading Platform Provider's Best Execution policy; and
 - (ii) by signing this Agreement, the Client agrees to Branded Trading Platform Provider's Best Execution Policy and to the trade execution terms and conditions of the ITA with respect to the Offshore Contracts;

The Client's Own Judgment:

- 3.5. The Client consents to receiving Real Time Promotions (as defined under clause BC 2.3.13 of the CBB Rulebook Volume 4) from the Broker. Such Real Time Promotions may include personal visits, telephone conversation or other interactive dialogue between the Broker and the Client in relation to the Services included under this Agreement.
- 3.6. The Broker does not act as a professional advisor. The Client should use its own judgment, investigation and analysis, especially on verbal recommendations. All information provided by the Broker is intended for informational and/or marketing purposes only and should not be construed as (i) business, financial, investment, hedging, legal, regulatory, tax or accounting advice; (ii) a recommendation or trading idea, or (iii) any other type of encouragement to act, invest or divest in a particular manner (Collectively "Recommendations"). The Broker shall not be responsible for any Losses arising from any investment based on a perceived Recommendations.

Conflict of Interest:

- 3.7. The Broker, the Affiliates or other persons or companies connected with the Broker may have an interest, relationship or arrangement that is material in relation to any transaction or Offshore Contract effected, or advice provided by the Broker, under this Agreement. The Broker has put in place a written conflicts of interest policy, which will be provided to the Client upon request. In the event that any situation arises which creates (or might create) a conflict of interest between the Broker (or the Affiliates or other persons or companies connected with the Broker) and the Client, the Broker will manage the conflict in accordance with its conflicts of interest policy and the CBB Rulebook's Business Conduct Module and Regulations.
- 3.8. The Client agrees and acknowledges that the Broker may from time to time act for third parties whose interests conflict with those of the Client. The Client's approval to this provision and its execution of this Agreement shall be considered an acceptance on its part, a declaration of its knowledge of the potential presence of conflict of interests and a written approval by the Client to deal with the Broker despite the foregoing.
- 3.9. The Client agrees and acknowledges that the Broker is not responsible for managing or mitigating any actual or potential conflict of interest with respect to Branded Trading Platform Provider in connection with the Offshore Contracts, which shall be subject to Branded Trading Platform Provider's own conflict of interest policy without any liability on the Broker.

Counterparties

- 3.10. In order to execute an Instruction, Branded Trading Platform Provider may instruct a Counterparty selected at Branded Trading Platform Provider's discretion and Branded Trading Platform Provider shall do so where the transaction is to be subject to the rules of an Exchange or market of which Branded Trading Platform Provider is not a member.
- 3.11. The Client acknowledges that Branded Trading Platform Provider is not obliged to accept such Instructions and effecting these Instructions through a Counterparty is subject to the Client providing the Broker with all documents and/or approvals which the Counterparty or Branded Trading Platform Provider may request to comply with applicable Market Rules.

- 3.12. By executing this Agreement, the Client approves and authorizes Branded Trading Platform Provider to deal with Counterparties, to execute orders for its account on the relevant Exchange and to undertake all actions and procedures to effect such transactions in accordance with the applicable Market Rules. For avoidance of doubt, such approval and authorization of the Client shall be deemed repeated with each Instruction to execute a transaction on an Exchange.
- 3.13. The Broker shall not be responsible for errors committed by such Counterparties or by Branded Trading Platform Provider, unless the Broker acted with fraud as finally determined in a court of competent jurisdiction.

Market Making

- 3.14. The Client acknowledges and understands that in certain markets, including the foreign Exchange, OTC foreign exchange options and CFD Contracts, the Branded Trading Platform Provider may act as a Market Maker.
- 3.15. When acting as a Market Maker, the Branded Trading Platform Provider will under normal market circumstances quote the Client's bid and ask prices.
- 3.16. In order for the Branded Trading Platform Provider to quote prices with the swiftness normally associated with speculative trading, the Branded Trading Platform Provider may have to rely on available price or availability information that may later prove to be faulty due to specific market circumstances, for instance, but not limited to, lack of liquidity in or suspension of an asset or errors in feeds from information providers or quotes from Counterparties. If so and it has acted in good faith when providing the price to the Broker and/or Client, the Branded Trading Platform Provider may cancel the trade with the Broker and/or the Client but shall do so within reasonable time and shall provide the Broker and/or the Client with a full explanation for the reason for such cancellation.
- 3.17. The Client understands and accepts that the Branded Trading Platform Provider acts as a Market Maker and, therefore it may be necessary for the Branded Trading Platform Provider to manage its available liquidity by separating its clients into different liquidity pools where the pricing and available liquidity in each group may be independent of the other pools/groups. Liquidity separations can become relevant for clients whom, for example, have price agreements deviating from standard, use alternative trading tools (e.g. API), trade outside normal trading hours, trade in odd sizes, make frequent use of resting orders that can require manual attention, frequently transact in multiple products and/or asset classes, or have other similar features to their trading.
- 3.18. Following execution of any position with a Client, the Branded Trading Platform Provider may at the Branded Trading Platform Provider's reasonable discretion subsequently offset a client position with another client position, or a position with one of the Counterparties or retain a proprietary position in the market with the intention to obtain trading profits from such positions. Such decisions and actions may therefore result in the Branded Trading Platform Provider offsetting client positions at prices different - sometimes significantly different - from prices quoted to clients, resulting in trading profits or losses for the Branded Trading Platform Provider. This in turn can raise the possibility of the Client incurring what may be seen as an implied cost (i.e. the difference between the price at which the Client traded with the Branded Trading Platform Provider and the price at which the Branded Trading Platform Provider subsequently traded with Counterparties and/or other clients) due to any profits realised by the Branded Trading Platform Provider as a result of the Market Making function. However, the Market Making function may involve significant costs to the Branded Trading Platform Provider if the market moves against the Branded Trading Platform Provider as compared to the price at which the Branded Trading Platform Provider traded with the Client.
- 3.19. The Client acknowledges, recognizes and accepts that the Branded Trading Platform Provider in such markets where the Branded Trading Platform Provider acts as Market Maker, may hold positions that are contrary to positions of the Client, resulting in potential conflicts of interest between the Branded Trading Platform Provider and the Client.
- 3.20. In markets where the Branded Trading Platform Provider acts as a Market Maker, the Client accepts that the Branded Trading Platform Provider has no obligation to quote prices to clients at all times in any given market, nor to quote such prices to clients with a specific maximum spread.
- 3.21. In markets where the Branded Trading Platform Provider acts as a Market Maker, the Branded Trading Platform Provider may or may not charge commissions. However, irrespective of whether or not the Branded Trading Platform Provider charges any commissions, the Client accepts that the Branded Trading Platform Provider will seek to make additional profits out of its performance as a Market Maker and the size of any such profits may be considerable if and when compared with the Client's Margin.

- 3.22. The Client acknowledges, recognizes and accepts that the price quoted to the Client includes a spread when compared with the price to which the Branded Trading Platform Provider may have covered or expected to be able to cover the Offshore Contract in a trade with another client or a Counterparty. Furthermore, the Client acknowledges, recognizes and accepts that said spread constitutes remuneration to the Branded Trading Platform Provider and that such spread cannot necessarily be calculated for all Offshore Contracts and that such spread will not be specified at the Trade Confirmation or otherwise revealed to the Client.
- 3.23. The Client acknowledges, recognizes and accepts that the Branded Trading Platform Provider quotes variable spreads on options. The Client is specifically made aware that variable option spreads are affected by actual market conditions, which are beyond the Branded Trading Platform Provider's control. The Branded Trading Platform Provider and/or the Broker does not guarantee any maximum or minimum quotable option spreads.
- 3.24. Any commission costs, interest charges, costs associated to and included in the spreads quoted by the Branded Trading Platform Provider as a Market Maker and other fees and charges will consequently influence the Client's trading result and will have a negative effect on the Client's trading performance compared to a situation if such commission costs, interest charges, costs associated to and included in the spreads did not apply.
- 3.25. Whilst dealing spreads and commissions are normally considered moderate in relation to the value of the assets traded, such costs may be considerable when compared with the Margin. As a consequence thereof the Client's Margin may be depleted by trading losses that the Client may incur and by the directly visible dealing costs such as commissions, interest charges and brokerage fees as well as the said not visible costs for the Client, caused by the Branded Trading Platform Provider's performance as a Market Maker.
- 3.26. If the Client is an active trader and is undertaking numerous transactions, the total impact of visible as well as not visible costs may be significant. Consequently, the Client may have to obtain significant profits in the markets in order to cover the costs associated with trading activities with the Branded Trading Platform Provider. For very active clients, such costs may over time exceed the value of the margin deposited.
- 3.27. The Client acknowledges, recognizes and accepts that in the area of market making in foreign Exchange, OTC foreign exchange options, CFD Contracts and other OTC products, significant implied costs can arise as a consequence of the profits made by the Branded Trading Platform Provider performing in its capacity as a Market Maker.
- 3.28. The Branded Trading Platform Provider's performance as a Market Maker may negatively affect the Trading Sub-Account and the said implied costs are neither directly visible nor directly quantifiable for the Client at any time.
- 3.29. The Branded Trading Platform Provider is at no time obliged to disclose any details of its performance or income produced as a Market Maker or otherwise related to other commissions, charges and fees.
- 3.30. The Client acknowledges, recognizes and accepts that CFD Contracts may be OTC products quoted by the Branded Trading Platform Provider whilst operating as a Market Maker and not traded on a recognized stock exchange. As a result, the description above of the implied, not visible costs related to the Branded Trading Platform Provider's performance as a Market Maker may also apply to any CFD Contract.

Aggregation & Split

- 3.31. The Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider may aggregate Instructions with the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider's own orders, orders of any of the Affiliates and/or persons connected with the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider including employees and other clients. Furthermore, the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider may split Instructions at execution. Instructions will only be aggregated or split if the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider reasonably believes it to be unlikely that the aggregation or split generally will be detrimental to the Client.
- 3.32. The Client acknowledges, recognizes and accepts that on single occasions aggregation and split of Instructions may result in the Client obtaining a less favourable price than if Instructions had been executed respectively separately or mutually.

Price Misquotation, Sniping and Misuse of the Branded Trading Platform

- 3.33. In the event that there is an error in the price quoted on the Branded Trading Platform the Broker shall not be bound by any Offshore Contract which is, or purports to have been entered into at a price which the Broker is able to substantiate to the Client that it was manifestly incorrect at the time of the Offshore Contract or which was or ought to have reasonably been known by the Client to be incorrect at the time of entering into the Offshore Contract. In such situation, the Broker may either not execute the Offshore Contract or execute the Offshore Contract at the quoted price or the correct price and, if it does so, the Broker may close out the Offshore Contract entered into (including by correcting either the price at which the Broker hedged the Offshore Contract or the historic market price). In such situation, the Broker shall not be liable for any losses, damages, costs, expenses, liabilities or claims except to the extent that they arise directly out of the Broker's fraud and are finally determined in a court of competent jurisdiction.
- 3.34. Trading strategies aimed at exploiting errors in prices and/or concluding trades at off-market prices (commonly known as "sniping") are not accepted by the Broker and the Branded Trading Platform Provider. Provided that the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider can document that there on the time of the conclusion of the trade were errors in prices, commissions, or in the Branded Trading Platform, and provided the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider can (i) render probable that the Client, based on its trading strategy or other provable behaviour, deliberate and/or systematically has exploited or attempted to exploit such an error; or (ii) reasonably determines that the Client is showing abnormal trading activity or is behaving in a way which might reasonably be considered to be abusive in accordance with Directive 2003/6/EC or is adopting trading strategies aimed at exploiting misquotations (including by trading against a Contract entered into, or to be entered into, under this Agreement or any similar behaviour) or is generally deemed to be acting in bad faith or attempting to abuse the information or facilities available on the Branded Trading Platform, the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider is entitled to take one or more of the following counter measures:
- (i) adjust the commissions and price spreads available to the Client;
 - (ii) restrict the Client's access to streaming, instantly tradable quotes, including providing manual quotation only;
 - (iii) restrict the Client's access to the Branded Trading Platform;
 - (iv) retrieve from the Trading Sub-Account the cash or Securities credited, or any historic trading profits that have been gained through such abuse (as determined by the Branded Trading Platform Provider and/or the Broker);
 - (v) terminate the Client relationship immediately by giving written notice by the Broker; and/or
 - (vi) take any other action the Branded Trading Platform Provider reasonably considers necessary to avoid such behaviour.
- 3.35. By accepting this Agreement, the Client authorizes the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider to register and keep register of the IP addresses from which the Client logs into the Branded Trading Platforms in order to prevent Sniping. These IP-addresses may be transferred to the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider Group companies in countries where data protection laws may not provide an equivalent level of protection to the laws of Bahrain.
- Confidentiality:
- 3.36. The Broker will treat all information received from the Client as confidential. Neither party shall disclose any information relating to the business, investments, finances or other matters of a confidential nature of the other Party, which it may in the course of its duties obtain possession of, and each Party shall use all reasonable endeavours to prevent any such disclosure. The same obligations apply to all employees, sub-contractors and agents of each Party and each Party shall use all reasonable endeavours to prevent any such disclosure by any such person.
- 3.37. However, according to Article BC 2.11 of the CBB Rulebook Volume 4, the Client acknowledges, recognises and accepts that obligations set out in clause 3.36 shall not apply in the following cases:
- (i) if a Party is obliged hereto due to the Market Rules, a legislative or supervising authority, to disclose to another person who according to the Market Rules is entitled to demand disclosure, or in order to enable the Party sufficiently to fulfil its obligations pursuant to this Agreement;

- (ii) to information provided by the Broker to the Branded Trading Platform Provider or its Affiliates or other third parties in the course of providing the Services pursuant to this Agreement;
- (iii) to information provided by the Broker to a third party who has signed a non-disclosure agreement with the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider according to which the third party undertakes a confidentiality obligation similar to the obligation set out in clause 3.36; or
- (iv) to information which has been independently developed by the relevant Party or is publicly available or falls into the public domain through no fault of the relevant Party or comes into the relevant Party's possession by other means.

Transfer of Personal Data and Information:

- 3.38. The Client acknowledges that the Branded Trading Platform is situated at the Branded Trading Platform Provider's server which may be situated offshore. Accordingly, personal data entered by Clients may be stored offshore.
- 3.39. The Branded Trading Platform Provider shall process personal data provided to it by the Broker in accordance with the Danish Act on Processing of Personal Data.
- 3.40. By accepting this Agreement, the Client permits the Broker to transfer personal information about the Client submitted to or collected by the Broker to any legal entity within the Branded Trading Platform Provider Group and/or EFG Hermes Group. The Branded Trading Platform Provider Group and/or EFG Hermes Group may transfer such personal information for the purposes of complying with regulatory matters, providing and performing investment advice, investment services, and other services which the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider offers, conducting marketing, and managing the Client relationship. Such personal information may be transferred to the Branded Trading Platform Provider Group and/or EFG Hermes Group companies in countries where data protection laws may not provide an equivalent level of protection to the laws of Bahrain. Furthermore, the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider may share such personal information with a third party agency, with the purpose of performing Client analysis for the use of the Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider's sales and marketing and with any Introducing Broker.
- 3.41. The Client shall enter its user ID and password when logging on to EFG Hermes Platform and/or the Branded Trading Platform. Entering incorrect password multiple times will automatically lock the user ID. The Broker and/or the Branded Trading Platform Provider will inform the Client of the locking and the reasons for it, where possible, before the locking and if this is not possible immediately thereafter, unless giving such information would compromise objectively justified security reasons. The Client is obligated to contact the Broker immediately on becoming aware of unauthorized use of EFG Hermes Platform and/or the Branded Trading Platform, or if the Client suspects that the password has been misappropriated by a third party, to lock the user ID and undertake the required procedures by the Broker to issue a new password.
- 3.42. The Client can lock its EFG Hermes Platform and/or Branded Trading Platform access at any time by contacting the Broker and undertaking the required procedures by the Broker. The Client acknowledges and agrees that locking EFG Hermes Platform and/or the Branded Trading Platform prevents the Client and other persons from accessing it. Accordingly, the Client will not be able to access any information or notifications on EFG Hermes Platform and/or the Branded Trading Platform, including but not limited to Margin Requirement, Margin Call, .etc. Open orders and positions placed on the Branded Trading Platform before the locking will not be affected by the locking unless the Client specifically requests so, and the Client is responsible for deciding about its positions.
- 3.43. The right to use EFG Hermes Platform and/or the Branded Trading is restricted to authorized persons, and the Client shall not allow unauthorized persons to use its user ID and/or password.
- 3.44. The Client is obliged to keep passwords secret and ensure that third parties do not obtain access to the Client Cash Account and the Trading Sub-Account. The Client is liable to the Broker for (i) Offshore Contracts executed; (ii) all Instructions, and (iii) for the accuracy of all information, sent via the internet using the Client's name, password or any other personal identification means implemented to identify the Client even if wrongful.

- 3.45. Where the Client has placed an Instruction, which it subsequently regrets, the Client may request to cancel the Instruction up until the time of execution. The Client is aware that the Broker is under no obligation to cancel the Instruction. A request for cancellation of an Instruction can be made via the Branded Trading Platform or by calling the Broker. Requests concerning cancellation of Instructions generated when the Margin is exceeded can only be made to the Broker directly. An Instruction shall not be considered to be cancelled until the Client has received a notification on the Branded Trading Platform to this effect.

 - (iv) regardless of the fact that the Branded Trading Platform might confirm that an Offshore Contract is executed immediately when the Client transmits Instructions via the Branded Trading Platform, it is the Trade Confirmation on the Branded Trading Platform which solely constitutes the Branded Platform Provider's confirmation of execution.

 - (vi) EFG Hermes Platform and/or the Branded Trading Platform and its content is provided "as is" and neither the Broker nor the Branded Platform Provider represent the functionality or suitability of EFG Hermes Platform and/or the Branded Trading Platform for the Client, or that it will be uninterrupted or error free;

The Market Data Source or the Branded Platform Provider may choose to change or discontinue the Market Data Services at any time, and neither shall be liable for any loss or damages that may arise from this. In addition, the Client understands, acknowledges and accepts that the Market Data Sources may change their terms, fees and policies from time to time. It is the Client's sole responsibility to comply with the Market Data Sources' policies.

- 5. Fees, Charges & Commissions
- 5.1. The Client acknowledges and agrees that it is obliged to pay to the Broker the commissions, charges interest and fees, set out on Branded Trading Platform. The Client is under an obligation to review the commissions, charges, interest and fees regularly on the Branded Trading Platform prior to giving any Instruction to the Broker and during the term of this Agreement. Schedule II includes detailed instruction on researching the relevant commissions, charges, fees and Margin on the Branded Trading Platform.
- 5.2. The Broker may vary such commissions and charges without notice when the change is to the Client's advantage, or the grounds for changes are due to external circumstances beyond the Broker's control. Such circumstances are:
- (i) Changes in the relationship with the Broker's counterparties, including without limitation the Branded Platform Provider, which affect the Broker's cost structures; and/or
 - (ii) Changes in commissions and charges from Exchanges, clearing houses, information providers or other third party providers, including without limitation the Branded Platform Provider, that are passed on to the Client by the Broker.
- 5.3. The Broker may vary such commissions and charges immediately upon notice if:
- (i) market conditions, including competitive behaviour, call for changes to the Broker's conditions;
 - (ii) The Broker for commercial reasons wishes to change its general cost and pricing structure; and/or
 - (iii) significant particulars of the Client, based on which individual conditions were provided, have changed.
- 5.4. In addition to such commissions and charges, the Client shall be obliged to pay all applicable value added taxes ("VAT") and other taxes, storage and delivery charges, exchange and clearing house fees and all other fees incurred by the Broker in connection with any Offshore Contract and/or in connection with this Agreement or with maintaining the Client relationship.
- 5.5. Furthermore, the Broker shall be entitled to either deduct the following amounts from the Trading Sub-Account and/or the Client Cash Account or demand that the following expenses are paid separately by the Client:
- (i) all extraordinary disbursements resulting from the client relationship (e.g. telephone, telefax, courier, and postal expenses) in case the Client requests hardcopy Trade Confirmations, Account Statements etc. which the Broker could have delivered in electronic form;
 - (ii) any expenses of the Broker caused by non-performance by the Client, including a fee determined by the Broker in relation to forwarding of reminders, legal assistance etc.;
 - (iii) any expenses of the Broker in connection with replies to inquiries by public authorities, including a fee determined by the Broker in relation to forwarding of transcripts and enclosures and for the preparation of copies;
 - (iv) administration fees in connection with security deposits, and any expenses of the Broker in relation to a pledge, if provided, including any insurance premium payments;
 - (v) any expenses of the Broker in relation to transferring cash from the Client's account with an Affiliate to the Client Cash Account and/or the Trading Sub-Account; and
 - (vi) any expenses of the Broker in connection with auditor's comments/ reports if such is requested by the Client.
- 5.6. The fees will be charged either as a fixed amount corresponding to payments effected, or as a percentage or hourly rate corresponding to the service performed. The methods of calculation can be combined. The Broker reserves the right to introduce new fees.

- 5.7. The Broker may share commissions and charges with the Affiliates or other third parties or receive remuneration from them in respect of Offshore Contracts. Details of any such remuneration or sharing arrangement will not be set out on the relevant Trade Confirmations. The Broker (or any Affiliate) may benefit from commission, Mark-up, mark-down or any other remuneration where it acts for the Counterparty to transaction.
- 5.8. Unless specified otherwise in the Agreement, all amounts due to the Broker (or Agents used by the Broker) under the Agreement shall, at the Broker's option:

- 5.9. In respect of any transactions to be effected OTC, the Broker shall be entitled to quote prices at which the Branded Platform Provider is prepared to trade with the Client. Save where the Broker exercises any rights it may have under the Agreement to close an Offshore Contract, it is the Client's responsibility to decide whether or not it wishes to enter into an Offshore Contract at such prices.
- 5.10. Furthermore, the Client acknowledges, recognizes and accepts that the procedures described in this clause and clause 10 may result in additional indirect costs for the Client.

6. Instructions & Communication

- 6.1. The Client may provide the Broker with oral or written Instructions (which shall include instructions provided via the internet or by e-mail as described below). The Broker shall acknowledge the reception of the Instructions orally or in writing, as appropriate. Instructions must be sent exclusively via the Branded Trading Platform unless the Branded Trading Platform was not functioning and the Client placed the Instruction on phone and shall only then constitute a valid Instruction and/or binding Offshore Contract only when confirmed to the Client via the Branded Trading Platform or orally on recorded calls. The Client acknowledges and accepts that the mere placing of an Instruction or mere transmission of an Instruction by the Client through the Branded Trading Platform shall not constitute a binding Offshore Contract.
- 6.2. Instructions may be placed as market orders to buy or sell as soon as possible at the price obtainable in the market, or on selected products as limit and stop orders to trade when the price reaches a predefined level. Limit orders to buy and stop orders to sell must be placed below the current market price, and limit orders to sell and stop orders to buy must be placed above the current market price. If the bid price for sell orders or ask price for buy orders is reached, the orders will be filled as soon as possible at the price obtainable in the market. Limit and stop orders are executed consistent with the Branded Platform Provider's Best Execution Policy and are not guaranteed executable at the specified price or amount, unless explicitly stated by the Branded Platform Provider for the specific order.
- 6.3. The Client shall promptly give any Instructions to the Broker, which the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider may require. If the Client does not give such Instructions promptly, the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider may, at its reasonable discretion, take such steps at the Client's cost, as the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider considers necessary or desirable for its own protection or the protection of the Client. This provision is similarly applicable in situations when the Broker is unable to obtain contact with the Client.
- 6.4. If the Client does not provide the Broker with notice of its intention to exercise an option, a Contract Option or another Offshore Contract which requires an Instruction from the Client at the time stipulated by the Broker, the Broker may treat the option or Offshore Contract as abandoned by the Client. If the Client wishes to exercise an option, Contract Option or another Offshore Contract, the Client must provide the Broker with notice thereof in reasonable time (and within applicable cut-off times) for the Broker to exercise such right under any Offshore Contract or contract equivalent to the Contract Option that the Broker has entered into with the Branded Platform Provider or any other counterparty. Contract Options (put and call) that close one tick or more in the money on the last trading day will automatically be exercised, regardless of whether the Client has purchased or sold the Contract Option. The Client cannot instruct the Broker not to exercise Contract Options that are in the money at expiry, and cannot at any time instruct the Broker to exercise Contract Options that are out of the money.
- 6.5. The Broker applies a random method of assignment among its Clients' Contract Options when the Broker is notified by the Branded Platform Provider or its Counterparties that one or more short option positions have been assigned. The Broker's allocation method randomly selects short Contract Options among all the positions of the Broker's clients, including Contract Options opened immediately prior to the assignment. All short Contract Options are liable for assignment at any time. If a short Contract Option is assigned, the Client is obliged, within the applicable time of delivery, to deliver the relevant amount of cash or assets in the case of a call Contract Option and the relevant amount of cash in the case of a put Contract Option, to effect settlement.
- 6.6. The Broker may (but shall not under any circumstances be obliged to) require confirmation in such form as the Broker may reasonably request if an Instruction is to close a Trading Sub-Account or remit money due to the Client or if it appears to the Broker that such confirmation is necessary or desirable.
- 6.7. The Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider may refuse to act upon any Instruction if the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider can render probable that the disposal pursuant to the Instruction submitted would be in violation of the Market Rules, including but not limited to legislation on money laundering or insider trading, or if the disposal by the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider's reasonable discretion will put the Client or the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider's economic solidity at risk.
- 6.8. If, after Instructions are received, the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider believes that it is not reasonably practicable to act upon such Instructions within a reasonable time, the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider may defer acting upon those Instructions until it is, in the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider's reasonable opinion, practicable to do so or as soon as possible notify the Client that the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider is refusing to act upon such Instructions.
- 6.9. The Client agrees that the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider may record all telephone conversations, internet conversations (chat), and meetings between the Client and the Broker as well as all of EFG Hermes Platform and/or the Branded Trading Platform correspondence. The Client acknowledges that these recordings are the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider's sole property and may use such recordings, or transcripts from such recordings, as evidence towards any party (including, but not limited to, any regulatory authority, arbitral tribunal and/or court of law) to whom the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider at its reasonable discretion sees it to be desirable or necessary to disclose such information in any dispute or anticipated dispute between the Broker and the Client. The Client may obtain copies of records relating to its business with the Broker which will be kept for 10 years or as otherwise required by Bahrain Law. However, technical reasons may prevent the Broker from recording a conversation, and recordings or transcripts made by the Broker will be destroyed in accordance with the Broker's normal practice and the Bahrain Law.
- 6.10. When the Client instructs the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider to enter into a position opposite to one or more of the Client's open positions, the Broker will close out the opposite position in accordance with the FIFO principles unless the position has related orders or it is otherwise agreed.
- 6.11. The Client acknowledges that the Broker and/or the Branded Platform Provider has the right to, but not the obligation to close directly opposite positions. This applies not only when the positions are held on the same account, but also when they are held on separate accounts.
- 6.12. If the Client operates several Trading Sub-Accounts and opposite positions are opened on different Trading Sub-Accounts, the Broker shall not close out such positions. The Client is specifically made aware that unless closed manually, all such positions may be rolled over on a continuous basis and thereby consequently incur a cost for such roll-over.
- 6.13. The Branded Platform Provider may offer real time tradable prices to the Client through the Branded Trading Platform. Due to delayed transmission between the Client and the Branded Platform Provider the price offered by the Branded Platform Provider may have changed before an Instruction from the Client is received by the Branded Platform Provider. If automatic order execution is offered to the Client, the Branded Platform Provider shall be entitled to change the price on which the Instruction is executed to the market value at the time at which the Instruction was received.

- 6.14. Prices offered by the Branded Platform Provider regarding the sale, purchase or exercise of Contract Options reflect the price of the Exchange traded product. Due to delays from the Client's execution of an order or Instruction regarding a Contract Option to the execution of the Exchange traded product on the Exchange, the price as listed on the Branded Trading Platform is subject to change, in order for the Contract Option to reflect the price of the Exchange traded product at the time of its execution or exercise (as applicable).
- 6.15. The Broker shall provide statements to the Client via EFG Hermes Platform and/or the Branded Trading Platform setting out all information necessary for the Client to complete a reconciliation of all Offshore Contracts executed, all outstanding open Offshore Contract positions, and the amount and composition of the Margin Balance and the Client Cash Account. The Client shall access the Branded Trading Platform to stay updated on the execution of Offshore Contracts and the status of the Instructions.

7. Execution, Settlement & Transfer of Funds

Transfer of Funds:

- 7.1. The Client shall open a Client Cash Account with the Broker denominated in the Base Currency to debit and credit any Instructions under this Agreement. The Broker may, but is not obliged to, open Client Cash Account(s) in currencies other than the Base Currency.
- 7.2. The Client shall be given a receipt for any deposited cash into the Client Cash Account upon the Client's request. The Broker may refuse to accept cash deposits. The Client can review the status of the Client Cash Account through accessing EFG Hermes Platform and/or the Branded Trading Platform. The Broker shall not accept cash withdrawals from the Client Cash Account by any person other than the Authorized Persons.
- 7.3. The Client may deposit in the Client Cash Account cheques drawn on other banks supervised by the CBB (a list of the other banks shall be provided if requested). All checks issued to the Client shall be nominal cheques. Cheques issued to the order of any person other than the Broker shall not be accepted. Likewise, no remittances or fund transfers incoming or outgoing to the Client Cash Account with the Broker or the Affiliates shall be accepted unless through the accounts of the same Client.

The Broker shall not be bound by such order or Instruction and shall not enter into the relevant Offshore Contract with the Branded Platform Provider unless (i) the full Purchase Amount is transferred from the Client Cash Account to the Trading Sub-Account with the Branded Platform Provider; or (ii) the Trading Sub-Account already includes cash balances that adequately cover the Purchase Amount for execution and settlement of the relevant Offshore Contract.
- 7.5. In case the Client has more than one Client Cash Account with the Broker in different currencies, the Broker shall be entitled at its sole discretion to cover the Client's debit by deducting from the Client's other credited accounts denominated in different currencies without having to refer to the Client and in accordance with the official foreign exchange rates announced by the relevant bank on the day of conversion. In addition, the Broker shall be entitled to transfer cash to and from the different Client Cash Accounts held with the Broker, as it deems appropriate at its sole discretion and without referring to the Client, to cover any indebtedness of the Client or for covering any Purchase Amounts for orders or Instructions given by the Client.
- 7.6. The Broker may according to its absolute discretion on a case by case basis and within the broker internal limit, but is not obliged to, enter into a purchase Offshore Contract pursuant to the Instructions before the full Purchase Amount is transferred from the Client Cash Account to the Trading Sub-Account held with the Branded Platform Provider, only provided that:
- (i) such amount is deposited by the Client or already exists in the Client Cash Account in the Base Currency; or
 - (ii) the Client deposits such amount with any of the Affiliates in the Base Currency with instructions for such amounts to be transferred to the Client Cash Account; or
- (iii) the Client deposits adequate amount in the Client Cash Account or with any of the Affiliates in other currencies (with Instructions for such amounts to be converted into the Base Currency and transferred to the Client Cash Account), which after conversion by the Broker into the Base Currency would cover the full Purchase Amount of the purchase Offshore Contract;
 - (iv) the Client transfers cash from its account(s) with the Affiliates to the Client Cash Account and/or the Trading Sub-Account through EFG Hermes Platform. The Client understands, acknowledges and accepts the following:
 - a. the foreign exchange rate used on EFG Hermes Platform to convert the Client's available balance in its account with the Affiliate to the Base Currency will be the exchange rate of the relevant Affiliate; and
 - b. the foreign exchange rate at execution of the transfer may differ from the foreign exchange rate when the Client submitted the transfer instruction;
 - c. the foreign exchange rate may be different from the rate shown on EFG Hermes Platform without any liability on the Broker and the Affiliates; and
 - d. the Broker is not liable for any fluctuation in the exchange rate of currencies.
- 7.7. In case the Client places any purchase orders or Instructions through the Branded Trading Platform with respect to any Offshore Contracts for Securities that are denominated in a currency other than the Base Currency, the Branded Platform Provider shall be entitled to convert Client's cash in its Trading Sub-Account to such other currency at the exchange rate as the Branded Platform Provider may reasonably determine. In case the Client has more than one Trading Sub-Account in different currencies, the Branded Platform Provider shall cover the Client's debited account by deducting from its other credited accounts denominated in the Base Currency without having to refer to the Client and in accordance with the exchange rate as the Branded Platform Provider may reasonably determine. The Branded Platform Provider and/or the Broker shall be entitled to add a Mark-up to the exchange rates, which shall be the sole liability of the Client.
- 7.8. The Client acknowledges, recognizes, understands and accepts the following:
- (i) The Client's cash and Margin included under the Trading Sub-Account will be included under the credit of the Trading Account;
 - (ii) despite the Broker setting up each client's Trading Sub-Account separately in order to have separate accounts for each client's positions, the Branded Platform Provider is entitled to treat any such cash and Margin in the same way as any other cash and Margin it receives from the Broker;
 - (iii) the Client's cash and Margin included in the Trading Sub-Account shall not be segregated from any cash or Margin which are held by the Branded Platform Provider in respect of Proprietary Contracts;
 - (iv) the Broker will transfer full ownership of any cash which it provides to the Branded Platform Provider for the purposes of any Broker Obligations, arising in connection to executing this Agreement, including without limitation any cash transferred to the Trading Sub-Account. Each transfer of cash from the Broker to the Branded Platform Provider to be credited to the Trading Sub-Account shall be made so as to constitute or result in a valid and legally effective transfer of the Broker's legal and beneficial title to the Branded Platform Provider; and
 - (v) the Branded Platform Provider may set-off or otherwise apply against any Broker Obligations any cash held in or payable to the Trading Account which is owed by the Branded Platform Provider to the Broker.

8.6. The frequency of the Margin Balance and Margin Requirement calculations is set out on the Branded Trading Platform. The Client acknowledge, understands and agrees that the Client is under an obligation to check the Margin Requirements before starting and during the Client's trade in any leveraged product as set out on the Branded Trading Platform.

If a Currency Option Transaction is exercised in part, the unexercised portion shall not be extinguished thereby but shall remain a Currency Option Transaction to the extent of such unexercised portion until the earlier of: (i) the expiration of the Currency Option Transaction; or (ii) an exercise of the Currency Option Transaction that leaves no unexercised portion thereof."

- (c) Confirmations. Any FX Transaction or Currency Option Transaction into which the parties may before the date of this Agreement have entered, or may in the future enter, where the relevant confirmation on its face does not expressly exclude the application of this Agreement, shall (to the extent not otherwise provided for in this Agreement) be subject to, governed by and construed in accordance with this Agreement (in substitution for any existing terms, if any, whether express or implied). Each such FX Transaction and Currency Option Transaction shall be a "Transaction", and the documents and other confirming evidence (including electronic messages on an electronic messaging service) exchanged between the parties confirming such FX Transaction or Currency Option Transaction shall each be a "Confirmation" (even where not so specified therein), for the purposes of this Agreement.

- (i) each being with respect to the same Put Currency and the same Call Currency;
 - (ii) each having the same Expiration Date and Expiration Time;
 - (iii) each being of the same style, i.e., both being American Style Options, both being European Style Options or both being Bermuda Style Options;

- and, upon the occurrence of such termination and discharge, neither party shall have any further obligation to the other party in respect of the relevant Currency Option Transactions or, as the case may be, parts thereof so terminated and discharged. In the case of a partial termination and discharge (i.e., where the relevant Currency Option Transactions are for different amounts of the Currency Pair), the remaining portion of the Currency Option Transaction which is partially discharged and terminated shall continue to be a Currency Option Transaction for all purposes hereunder.

ATTACHMENT

Amendments to the Agreement

The following provisions are added to the section on "Other Provisions" in the Schedule to the Agreement.

(g) Portfolio Reconciliation and Dispute Resolution

(1) Agreement to Reconcile Portfolio Data

The parties agree to reconcile portfolios as required by the Portfolio Reconciliation Risk Mitigation Techniques.

- (a) One-way Delivery of Portfolio Data. If one party is a Portfolio Data Sending Entity and the other party is a Portfolio Data Receiving Entity:

- (i) on each Data Delivery Date, the Portfolio Data Sending Entity will provide Portfolio Data to the Portfolio Data Receiving Entity;
- (ii) on each PR Due Date, the Portfolio Data Receiving Entity will perform a Data Reconciliation;
- (iii) if the Portfolio Data Receiving Entity identifies one or more discrepancies which such party determines, acting reasonably and in good faith, are material to the rights and obligations of the parties in respect of one or more Relevant Transaction(s), it will notify the other party in writing as soon as reasonably practicable and the parties will consult with each other in an attempt to resolve such discrepancies in a timely fashion for so long as such discrepancies remain outstanding, using, without limitation, any applicable updated reconciliation data produced during the period in which such discrepancy remains outstanding; and
- (iv) if the Portfolio Data Receiving Entity does not notify the Portfolio Data Sending Entity that the Portfolio Data contains discrepancies by 4p.m. local time in the place of business of the Portfolio Data Sending Entity on the fifth Joint Business Day following the later of the PR Due Date and the date on which the Portfolio Data Sending Entity provided such Portfolio Data to the Portfolio Data Receiving Entity, the Portfolio Data Receiving Entity will be deemed to have affirmed such Portfolio Data.

- (b) Exchange of Portfolio Data. If both parties are Portfolio Data Sending Entities:

- (i) on each Data Delivery Date, each party will provide Portfolio Data to the other party;
- (ii) on each PR Due Date, each party will perform a Data Reconciliation; and
- (iii) if a party identifies one or more discrepancies which such party determines, acting reasonably and in good faith, are material to the rights and obligations of the parties in respect of one or more Relevant Transaction(s), it will notify the other party in writing as soon as reasonably practicable and the parties will consult with each other in an attempt to resolve any such discrepancies in a timely fashion for so long as such discrepancies remain outstanding, using, without limitation, any applicable updated reconciliation data produced during the period in which such discrepancy remains outstanding.

(2) Change of Status

- (a) Each party may change its own designation with the written agreement of the other party (such agreement not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed [and for this purpose the parties agree, without limitation, that it will not be unreasonable for a party to withhold agreement where agreement would result in the other party having different designations in respect of such party and one or more Affiliates of such party]). No change of designation will be permitted where the result would be both parties are Portfolio Data Receiving Entities unless the parties also agree a process for reconciling Portfolio Data in order to meet the requirements of the Portfolio Reconciliation Risk Mitigation Techniques.

- (b) If a party believes, acting reasonably and in good faith, that the parties are required to perform Data Reconciliation at a greater or lesser frequency than that being used by the parties at such time, it will notify the other party of such in writing, providing evidence on request. From the date such notice is effectively delivered, such greater or lesser frequency will apply and the first following PR Due Date will be the earlier of the date agreed between the parties and the last Joint Business Day in the PR Period starting on the date on which the immediately preceding Data Reconciliation occurred (or, if no Joint Business Day occurs which is within such PR Period and is on or following the date such notice is effective, the first Joint Business Day following the later of the end of such PR Period and the date such notice is effective).

(3) Use of agents and third party service providers

- (a) For the purposes of performing all or part of the actions under section (g)(1) and (g)(2) above, each party may appoint:
- (i) an Affiliate to act as agent, immediately on written notice to the other party; and/or
 - (ii) subject to the other party's agreement (such agreement not to be unreasonably withheld or delayed and which may include any such agreement existing prior to 15 September 2013), (1) an entity other than an Affiliate as agent and/or (2) a qualified and duly mandated third party service provider.

(4) Dispute Identification and Resolution Procedure

The parties agree that they will use the following procedure to identify and resolve Disputes between them:

- (a) either party may identify a Dispute by sending a Dispute Notice to the other party;
- (b) on or following the Dispute Date, the parties will consult in good faith in an attempt to resolve the Dispute in a timely manner, including, without limitation, by exchanging any relevant information and by identifying and using any Agreed Process which can be applied to the subject of the Dispute or, where no such Agreed Process exists or the parties agree that such Agreed Process would be unsuitable, determining and applying a resolution method for the Dispute; and
- (c) with respect to any Dispute that is not resolved within five Joint Business Days of the Dispute Date, refer issues internally to appropriately senior members of staff of such party or of its Affiliate, adviser or agent in addition to actions under (b) immediately above (including actions under any Agreed Process identified and used under (b) immediately above) and to the extent such referral has not occurred as a result of action under (b) immediately above (including any Agreed Process).

(5) Internal processes for recording and monitoring Disputes

Each party agrees that, to the extent the Dispute Resolution Risk Mitigation Techniques apply to each party, it will have internal procedures and processes in place to record and monitor any Dispute for as long as the Dispute remains outstanding.

(6) Relationship to other portfolio reconciliation and dispute resolution processes

This section (g) and any action or inaction of either party in respect of it are without prejudice to any rights or obligations the parties may possess in respect of each other under any Agreed Process or other contractual agreement, by operation of law or otherwise. Action or inaction by a party in respect of this section (g) will not be presumed to operate as an exercise or waiver, in whole or part, of any right, power or privilege such party may possess in respect of each other under any Agreed Process or other contractual agreement, by operation of law or otherwise. In particular, but without limitation, (a) any valuation in respect of one or more Relevant Transactions for the purposes of this section (g) will be without prejudice to any other valuation with respect to such Relevant Transaction(s) made for collateral, close out, dispute or other purpose; (b) the parties may seek to identify and resolve issues and discrepancies between themselves before either party delivers a Dispute Notice; and (c) nothing in this section (g) obliges a party to deliver a Dispute Notice following the identification of any such issue or discrepancy (notwithstanding that such issue or discrepancy may remain unresolved) or limits the rights of the parties to serve a Dispute Notice, to commence or continue an Agreed Process (whether or not any action under section (g)(4) has occurred) or otherwise to pursue any dispute resolution process in respect of any such issue or discrepancy (whether or not any action under section (g)(4) has occurred).

(h) Confidentiality Waiver

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement or in any non-disclosure, confidentiality or other agreement between the parties, each party hereby consents to the disclosure of information:

- (1) to the extent required or permitted under, or made in accordance with, the provisions of EMIR and any applicable supporting law, rule or regulation ("EMIR and Supporting Regulation") which mandate reporting and/or retention of transaction and similar information or to the extent required or permitted under, or made in accordance with, any order or directive in relation to (and including) EMIR and Supporting Regulation regarding reporting and/or retention of transaction and similar information issued by any authority or body or agency in accordance with which the other party is required or accustomed to act ("Reporting Requirements"); or
- (2) to and between the other party's head office, branches or Affiliates, or any persons or entities who provide services to such other party or its head office, branches or Affiliates, in each case, in connection with such Reporting Requirements.

Each party acknowledges that pursuant to EMIR and Supporting Regulation, regulators require reporting of trade data to increase market transparency and enable regulators to monitor systemic risk to ensure safeguards are implemented globally.

Each party further acknowledges that disclosures made pursuant hereto may include, without limitation, the disclosure of trade information including a party's identity (by name, address, corporate affiliation, identifier or otherwise) to any trade repository registered in accordance with Article 55 of EMIR or recognised in accordance with Article 77 of EMIR or one or more systems or services operated by any such trade repository ("TR") and any relevant regulators (including without limitation, the European Securities and Markets Authority and national regulators in the European Union) under EMIR and Supporting Regulation and that such disclosures could result in certain anonymous transaction and pricing data becoming available to the public. Each party further acknowledges that, for purposes of complying with regulatory reporting obligations, a party may use a third party service provider to transfer trade information into a TR and that a TR may engage the services of a global trade repository regulated by one or more governmental regulators. Each party also acknowledges that disclosures made pursuant hereto may be made to recipients in a jurisdiction other than that of the disclosing party or a jurisdiction that may not necessarily provide an equivalent or adequate level of protection for personal data as the counterparty's home jurisdiction. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) to the extent that applicable non-disclosure, confidentiality, bank secrecy, data privacy or other law imposes non-disclosure requirements on transaction and similar information required or permitted to be disclosed as contemplated herein but permits a party to waive such requirements by consent, the consent and acknowledgements provided herein shall be a consent by each party for purposes of such law; (ii) any agreement between the parties to maintain confidentiality of information contained in this Agreement or in any non-disclosure, confidentiality or other agreement shall continue to apply to the extent that such agreement is not inconsistent with the disclosure of information in connection with the Reporting Requirements as set out herein; and (iii) nothing herein is intended to limit the scope of any other consent to disclosure separately given by each party to the other party.

The consenting party represents and warrants that any third party to whom it owes a duty of confidence in respect of the information disclosed has consented to the disclosure of that information.

(i) Remedies for Breach

Without prejudice to the rights, powers, remedies and privileges provided by law, failure by a party to take any actions required by or to otherwise comply with section (g) or any inaccuracy of the representation and warranty in section (g), in either case, will not constitute an Event of Default or Termination Event in respect of such party.

(j) Local Business Day. The definition of Local Business Day in Section 14 shall be amended by replacing the last "and" with a comma and inserting the following before the full stop at the end of the definition:

" , and (i) in relation to portfolio reconciliation and dispute resolution under (g) and (k), unless otherwise agreed between the parties in writing, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments and are open for general business in Denmark"

Schedule I

Part Three

AMENDMENT TO ISDA SCHEDULE AS OF 01/12/2019 AS AGREED BETWEEN THE BROKER AND THE BRANDED PLATFORM PROVIDER

Amendments

2.1 With effect from the date of 01/12/2019 ISDA Schedule will be amended as follows:

(a) Part 1(g) will be deleted and replaced with the following:

"(g) "Additional Termination Event" shall apply. Each of the following shall constitute an Additional Termination Event.

(i) Termination of the Institutional Trading Agreement. The Institutional Trading Agreement (as defined in Part 5(a) below) terminates or fails or ceases to be in full force and effect for any reason. For the purposes of this Additional Termination Event, Party B shall be the sole Affected Party (except for the purposes of Section 6(b)(iv) where both parties shall be Affected Parties) and all Transactions shall be Affected Transactions.

(ii) Party B's Event of Default under the Institutional Trading Agreement. Any Event of Default (as defined in the Institutional Trading Agreement) occurs in relation to Party B under the Institutional Trading Agreement. For the purposes of this Additional Termination Event, Party B shall be the sole Affected Party and an Additional Termination Event shall only occur in respect of such Transactions (or such portions of Transactions) as determined by Party A in its sole discretion and only such Transactions (or such portions of Transactions) in respect of which such Additional Termination Event has occurred shall constitute Affected Transactions.

Any portion of Transactions which are not Affected Transactions pursuant to this Additional Termination Event shall continue in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement and the Notional Amount (as defined in the Confirmation in respect of each relevant Transaction) or equivalent term, howsoever described, in respect of any Transaction terminated in part, will be reduced to reflect such partial termination. Following a partial termination, the terms of all Transactions, as so reduced, shall continue to apply in accordance with their respective terms, mutatis mutandis.

(d) The following clauses will be added to the end of Part 5, following clause (f) "Limitation of Liability":

of the foreign exchange or derivatives contract so that transactions are "leveraged" or "geared". A relatively small market movement will have a proportionately larger impact on the funds you have deposited or will have to deposit; this may work against you as well as for you. You may sustain a total loss of initial margin funds and any additional funds deposited with the Broker to maintain your position. If the market moves against your position and/or margin requirements are increased, you may be called upon to deposit additional funds on short notice to maintain your position. Failing to comply with a request for a deposit of additional funds, may result in closure of your position(s) by the Branded Platform Provider and/or the Broker on your behalf and you will be liable for any resulting loss or deficit.

2. Risk-reducing Orders or Strategies

The placing of certain orders (e.g. "stop-loss" orders, where permitted under local law, or "stop-limit" orders), which are intended to limit losses to certain amounts, may not be adequate given that markets conditions make it impossible to execute such orders, e.g. due to illiquidity in the market. Strategies using combinations of positions, such as "spread" and "straddle" positions may be as risky as taking simple "long" or "short" positions.

Options

3. Variable Degree of Risk

Transactions in options carry a high degree of risk. Purchasers and sellers of options should familiarize themselves with the type of option (i.e., put or call) which they contemplate trading and the associated risks. You should calculate the extent to which the value of the options must increase for your position to become profitable, taking into account the premium and all transaction costs. The purchaser of options may offset or exercise the options or allow the option to expire. The exercise of an option results either in a cash settlement or in the purchaser acquiring or delivering the underlying interest. If the option is on a future, the purchaser will acquire a futures position with associated liabilities for margin. If the purchased option is out-of-the-money when it expires, you will suffer a total loss of your investment, which will consist of the option premium plus transaction costs. If you are contemplating purchasing out-of-the-money options, you should be aware that the chance of such options becoming profitable ordinarily is remote.

Selling ("writing" or "granting") an option generally entails considerably greater risk than purchasing options. Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may sustain a loss well in excess of that amount. The seller will be liable for additional margin to maintain the position if the market moves unfavourably. The seller will also be exposed to the risk of the purchaser exercising the option and the seller will be obligated to either settle the option in cash or to acquire or deliver the underlying interest. If the option is on a future, the seller will acquire a position in a future with associated liabilities for margin. If the option is "covered" by the seller holding a corresponding position in the underlying asset, in a future or in another option, the risk may be reduced. In case the option is not covered, the risk of loss can be unlimited.

Certain exchanges in some jurisdictions permit deferred payment of the option premium, exposing the purchaser to liability for margin payments not exceeding the amount of the premium. The purchaser is still subject to the risk of losing the premium and transaction costs. When the option is exercised or expires, the purchaser is responsible for any unpaid premium outstanding at that time.

Buying options involves less risk than selling options because, if the price of the underlying asset moves against you, you can simply allow the option to lapse. The maximum loss is limited to the premium, plus any commission or other transaction charges. However, if you buy a call option on a futures contract and you later exercise the option, you will acquire the future. This will expose you to the risks associated with 'futures' and 'contingent liability investment transactions.

If you write an option, the risk involved is considerably greater than buying options. You may be liable for margin to maintain your position and a loss may be sustained well in excess of the premium received. By writing an option, you accept a legal obligation to purchase or sell the underlying asset if the option is exercised against you, however far the market price has moved away from the exercise price. If you already own the underlying asset which you have contracted to sell (when the options will be known as 'covered call options') the risk is reduced. If you do not own the underlying asset ('uncovered call options') the risk can be unlimited. Only experienced persons should contemplate writing uncovered options, and then only after securing full details of the applicable conditions and potential risk exposure.

Transactions in forward and futures entail the obligation to deliver or take delivery on a specified expiration date of a defined quantity of an underlying asset at a price agreed on the contract date or in some cases to settle the position with cash. Futures are standardized contracts traded on exchange. Forwards are traded over-the-counter. Forwards and futures may involve high degrees of risk.

When buying or (short) selling an underlying asset by way of a futures or forward contract, a specified initial margin must often be supplied at the beginning of the contract. This is usually a percentage of the total value of the contract, OLT Investment International Company (B.S.C) (c) may require additional margin to be provided periodically or at any time during the life of the contract this usually corresponds to the notional profit or loss arising from any change in value in the contract or underlying assets.

The 'gearing' or 'leverage' often obtainable in futures trading means that a small deposit or down payment can lead to large losses as well as gains. It also means that a relatively small movement can lead to a proportionately much larger movement in the value of your investment, and this can work against you as well as for you. Futures transactions have a contingent liability, and you should be aware of the implications of this, in particular the margining requirements.

For forward sales, the underlying asset must be delivered at the strike price agreed even if its market value has risen since the contract date.

The seller thus risks losing the difference between the market value of the underlying assets and the agreed strike price. Theoretically, there is no limit to how far the market value of the underlying asset can rise and hence, the potential losses are unlimited and can substantially exceed the margin requirements.

For forward purchases, the buyer must take delivery of the underlying asset at the strike price agreed even if its market value has fallen since the contract date. The buyer's potential loss is thus the difference between the agreed strike price and the market value of the underlying assets. The maximum loss corresponds to the strike price. Potential losses can substantially exceed margin requirements.

Risk of Forward Rate Agreement: A person entering into a forward rate agreement contracts to pay or receive interest at an agreed rate over a period commencing at a future date regardless of the level of interest rates prevailing at that future date. For uncovered contracts, there is an unlimited interest rate risk, computed on the full amounts contracted.

Risk of Transactions and Combinations: Combinations refer to a situation when at least two different instruments - either in identical or different asset classes are brought and/or sold written at the same time. By closing or exercising individual parts of a combination Transaction, the risks involved can materially change. Given the large number of possible combinations, you should, before entering into any such Transaction, obtain full and independent advice so as to understand and be familiar with the particular risks involved.

Warrant

A warrant is a time-limited right to subscribe for shares or debentures and is exercisable against the original issuer of the underlying securities. A relatively small movement in the price of the underlying security results in a disproportionately large movement, unfavourable or favourable, in the price of the warrant. The prices of warrants can therefore be volatile. It is essential for anyone who is considering purchasing warrants to understand that the right to subscribe which a warrant confers is invariably limited in time, with the consequence that if the investor fails to exercise this right within the predetermined time-scale then the investment becomes worthless. You should not buy a warrant unless you are prepared to sustain a total loss of the money you have invested plus any commission or other transaction charges.

CFDs

This disclosure cannot and does not disclose or explain all of the risks and other significant aspects involved in trading in contracts for differences ("CFDs"). Engaging in this type of transaction can carry a high risk to your capital. You should not engage in trading CFDs unless you understand the nature of the transactions you are entering into and the true extent of your exposure to the risk of loss.

Although CFDs can be utilized for the management of investment risk, these products are unsuitable for many customers as they carry a high degree of risk. The "gearing" or "leverage" often obtainable in trading CFDs that a small deposit or down payment can lead to large losses as well as gains. It also means that a relatively small market movement can lead to a proportionately much larger movement in the value of your position, and this can work against you as well as for you.

Margin

CFDs are margined, and require you to make a series of payments against the contract value, instead of paying the whole contract value immediately. Where you enter into CFDs transactions, you must maintain sufficient margin on your account at all times to maintain your open positions and we provide you with on-line access to enable you to monitor your margin requirement at all times. We revalue your open positions continuously during each business day, and any profit or loss is immediately reflected in your account and a loss (which may or may not result in a margin call) may require you immediately to provide additional funds to us to maintain your open positions. We may also change our margin requirements at any time which may also result in a change to the margin you are required to maintain and you will be required in all cases to meet our margin call requirements. If you do not maintain sufficient margin on your account at all times and/or provide such additional funds within the time required, your open positions may be closed at a loss and you will be liable for any resulting deficit.

Additional Risks Common to Foreign Exchange and Derivatives Transactions and Other Products.

4. Suspension or Restriction of Trading and Pricing Relationships

Market condition (e.g. illiquidity) and/or the operation of the rules of certain markets (e.g., the suspension of trading in any contract or contract month because of price limits or "circuit breakers") may increase the risk of loss by making it difficult or impossible to effect transactions or close/offset positions. If you have sold options, this may increase the risk of loss.

Normal pricing relationships between the underlying asset and a derivative do not always exist. The absence of an underlying reference price may make it difficult to judge "fair" value.
5. Deposited Cash and Property

You should familiarize yourself with the protections accorded the Security you deposit by way of money or other assets in domestic and foreign transactions, particularly in the event of a firm insolvency or bankruptcy. The extent to which you may recover your money or other assets is governed by the legislation and local rules in the country at which location the counterparty acts.
6. Commission and Other Charges

Before you begin to trade, you should obtain a clear explanation of all commission, fees and other charges for which you will be liable. These charges will affect your net profit or loss.
7. Transactions in Other Jurisdictions

Transactions on markets in other jurisdictions, including markets formally linked to a domestic market, may expose you to additional risk. Such markets may be subject to regulation, which may offer different or diminished investor protection. Your local regulatory authority will be unable to compel the enforcement of the rules of regulatory authorities or markets in other jurisdictions where your transactions have been effected.
8. Currency Risks

The profit or loss in transactions in foreign currency-denominated contracts in another currency than your account currency will be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the currency denomination of the contract to the account currency.
9. Trading Facilities

Most open outcry and electronic trading facilities are supported by computer-based component systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. Your ability to recover certain losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by the system provider, the market, the clearing house and/or member firms.

10. Off-Exchange Transactions

In some jurisdictions firms are permitted to effect off-exchange transactions. The Branded Platform Provider may be acting as your counterparty to the transaction. It may be difficult or impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value, to determine a fair price or to assess the exposure to risk. For these reasons, these transactions may involve increased risks. Off-exchange transactions may be less regulated or subject to a separate regulatory regime. Before you undertake such transactions, you should familiarize yourself with applicable rules and attendant risks.
11. Foreign Markets

Foreign markets will involve different risks from local markets. In some cases risks will be greater. The potential for profit or loss from transactions on foreign markets or in foreign currency denominated markets will be affected by fluctuations in foreign exchange rates.
12. Counterparty and Credit Risk

You should ensure that it is aware of the identity of, and finds acceptable, the contractual counterparty with whom you may be matched. As you will often be purchasing an unsecured obligation of the counterparty (as opposed to and of a central clearing corporation in the case with exchange traded futures and options), you should evaluate the comparative credit risk. Where you purchase a debt instrument, product you take the credit risk to both its contractual counterparty as well as the issuer of the instrument until maturity. The capital protection only protects you from the downside-risk of the Transaction itself but not from the credit risk of the counterparty and the issuer.
13. Transaction cost:

Before making any transaction or investment, you should obtain a clear explanation of all commissions, fees and other charges from which you will be liable. Your net returns from any transaction or investment would also be affected by the transaction costs (i.e. commission, fees and other charges) charged by the Broker or third parties and any relevant tax liabilities. These costs must be considered during any risk assessment made by you. In some cases, managed Client Cash Accounts and Trading Sub-Accounts may be subject to substantial charges for management and advisory fees. It may be necessary for those Client Cash Accounts and Trading Sub-Accounts that are subject to these charges to make substantial trading profits to avoid depletion or exhaustion of their assets.
14. Tax Risks

Before entering into any transaction, you should understand the tax implications (including the implications of any applicable income tax, goods and services or value added taxes, stamp duties and other taxes) of acquiring, entering into holding and depositing of the relevant investment or transaction. Different Transactions may have different tax implications. The tax implications of any transactions are dependent upon the nature of your business activities and the transaction in question. You should therefore consult your independent tax advisor to understand the relevant tax considerations. You should not rely on the Broker to give any tax advice and or make tax recommendations at any time.
15. Exchange Traded Instruments

For Transactions involving underlying contracts or instruments which are traded on stock or futures exchanges, disruption of the normal market operations or conditions of such exchanges and/or the rules of operation of such exchanges may increase the risk of loss by making it difficult or impossible to close out the transactions or liquidate positions. You should also note that under certain circumstances, the specifications of outstanding contracts may be modified by the exchange or clearing house to reflect changes in the underlying interest and the option.
16. Non-Transferability, Assignments, and Transfers:

Over-the-counter transactions generally cannot be assigned or transferred without the consent of the party. The Broker will only on a best effort basis execute a transaction on your request. You may not assign, transfer, pledge or charge any right or interest it has under the agreement or in connection with the investment.
17. Price indications in Statement for Derivative Transactions and Non-listed instruments in General:

For financial derivative transactions and non-listed financial instruments, in particular in "combined" or "structured transactions", the absence of a

"market" or "common" reference price may hinder the ability of the Firm to provide the precise mark-to-market value of the Transaction. Therefore, you should be aware that value provided by the Broker will be theoretical and based on the latest available data believed to be reliable. The Firm consequently cannot and does not warrant that the prices provided for you are or will at any time be the best price available to you.

18. Emerging Markets Financial Instruments

Emerging markets are defined as markets in countries with moderate to low per capita national income while investments in emerging markets can yield large gains, they can also be highly risky as they could be unpredictable and there may be inadequate regulations and safeguards available to investors. Besides the risks inherent in all investments, those associated with emerging markets include, but are not limited to, country risk where government intervention in markets, perhaps in the form of exchange control laws or restriction in their repatriation of profits, may affect the value of an investment or your ability to enjoy its benefits. In addition, events (for instance, natural disasters, fluctuations in precious metal prices, commodities prices and/or exchange rates and political upheavals) which may have a minor or limited effect in more mature markets could affect emerging markets profoundly in these circumstances, investments by you in emerging markets need careful and independent assessment of each investment and the risk in relation thereto (including, without limitation, sovereign risk, issuer risk, price risk, political risk, and liquidity risk). You should make a full and independent appraisal of, and investigations into, and should. From time to time. Review the financial condition and credit worthiness of the relevant issuer of the emerging market financial instruments. You should be aware of and be able to weigh the diverse risks, some of which are identified above, before investing in emerging market and financial instruments.

19. Risk of High Volatility or Wide Spreads:

An order may only be partially executed or not executed at all, or the price at which the order got executed may be substantially different from the last traded price or change substantially thereafter, resulting in notional or real losses.

Internet Dangers Disclosure Statement

Trading on an electronic trading system may differ not only from trading in an open-outcry market but also from trading on other electronic trading systems. If you undertake transactions on an electronic trading system, you will be exposed to risks associated with the system including the failure of hardware and software. The result of any system failure may be that your order is either not executed according to your instructions, is not executed at all and a lack of capability to keep you informed continuously about your positions and fulfilment of the margin requirements.

High volume trading in markets may cause delays in order execution of confirmation. During periods of volatility, there may be delays in order execution and its confirmations. Under certain market conditions, it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position in the market a reasonable price or at all, when there are no outstanding orders either on the buy side or the sell side or if trading is halted in a security due to any action on Account of unusual trading activity or decision of regulators or exchanges.

The Client affirms and accepts that there are dangers that are associated with the use of the internet for executing intermediary transactions and the data transmissions associated with it. The Client accepts that these dangers include, but are not limited to, the following groups of dangers:

1. Intervention by a third party, including obstructing and sending of unsolicited spam messages by third parties and those who assume the identities of others, such as phishing or other identity theft schemes. Furthermore, such intervention may include introducing onto the equipment and systems of the Broker and/or The Branded Platform Provider programs and systems including computer viruses, worms, Trojan Horses, spy ware, malware or other such programs and the subsequent infection of the Client's equipment and systems by means of utilizing the Service.
2. A communication network breakdown, including an interruption and delay and severing of connections, and that such breakdowns may lead to banking and intermediary transactions not being executed on time and at the required speed.
3. Internal threats to and attacks on the computer system belonging to the Client by employee of the Client (in the case the Clients are companies) and other authorized users (in all circumstances).
4. Negligence in handing sensitive information by individuals using the Client's personal computer system or the information stored in it or what has been extracted from it naturally or by any other method.
5. The possibility of encryption systems being exposed to methods of infiltration by theft, deception, hacking or other methods of attack.
6. Any other dangers naturally resulting from use of the internet.

The Client affirms that the methods of those individuals who are able to breach and enter sites on the internet and manipulate them and other third parties who strive to obstruct or intercept internet communications are growing continuously over time and so the threats increase and change constantly. Also, the means of security and preventing such attacks are changing in response, but are not always able to prevent attacks. The Client acknowledges that it is in the Client's best interest to utilize firewall programs, encryption programs, passwords and tools to monitor other entry to reduce the dangers in using the internet for communications and for executing transactions. The Client affirms that the each of these security tools is as strong as the weakest link in the system and that follow-up, modernization and the application of internal security principles must be implemented in an appropriate way to ensure the greatest effectiveness of these systems. The Client affirms that it is necessary that the number of individuals who are granted different levels of access (actual access and logical access) with regard to the computer system be at the lowest level required to operate the computer system effectively.
